William Palmer of North Main street returned to the city this morning, after passing two weeks with his nephew in Tiverton, R. I. En route home he visited relatives in Somerville, Mass.

Two minor runaways on the streets of Barre yesterday were ascribed to the carelessness of drivers in leaving their horses uncovered in the cold. A double hitch swing around Elm street from North Main street in the forenoon, no damage resulting. In the afternoon a small driving horse, left standing in the teeth of the nor'wester tired of the treatment and sped homeward until overtaken by its owner.

Mrs. Harold J. Clark was pleasantly reminded of her birthday anniversary last evening when 30 of her friends called at her home on upper Washington street. The visit was a surprise to the hostess, but she was equal to the occasion and every member of the company was warmly welcomed. A short musical program consisted of a piano solo by Miss Emma Sevigny, vocal solos in duet by Mrs. E. M. Laws, and chorus singing. In behalf of the company, E. M. Laws presented Mrs. Clark a handsome parlor lamp with electric attachment, the recipient responding in a few words. Later games were played and dainty refreshments, consisting of punch and wafers, ice cream and cake, were served by Miss Mildred Marston, a sister of Mrs. Clark, and Miss Emma Sevigny.

Nature did its bit last night under the veil of the Northfield weather man's prophecy that the mercury would fall 30 degrees in 36 hours, beginning yesterday. According to reputable weather indicators, the quicksilver went 24 degrees of the distance from 4 o'clock in the afternoon to 4 o'clock this morning. An East street man who gaped wonderingly at his thermometer early to-day thought the mercury had dropped 30 feet instead of 30 degrees, but a closer scrutiny of the indicator revealed a leak in the base of the fluid tube, a leak which explained the disappearance of the mercury far below the most unconventional levels.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Motor drivers who expect their cars to weather the cruel blasts of January, February and March, are out these days with the new 1916 number plates, obtained through the office of the secretary of state. Of a color somewhat different but conforming to the 1915 plates in size and shape are the new number cars. A number of merchants and manufacturing concerns have not missed using their trucks a single day since the arrival of winter.

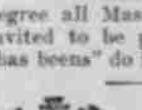

After the weekly prayer meeting at the First Presbyterian church last evening, many parishioners gathered in the vestry for a farewell reception to Mr. and Mrs. John Stewart of 13 Central street. Nothing of a formal nature attached to the affair, but good fellowship prevailed and the evening was very enjoyably passed. The pastor, Rev. E. Crossland, speaking for the parishioners, presented Mr. Stewart a leather traveling bag, and Mrs. Stewart was the recipient of a traveling bag and a handbag from the ladies of the church. Refreshments were served and good-byes were said, as for many of those present the occasion offered an opportunity for bidding farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Stewart almost on the eve of their departure for California. At their home Wednesday evening 15 old friends were entertained by the couple and presentations included a gold brooch for Mrs. Stewart and a fountain pen for her husband. Feeling responsive Mr. Stewart, at Mr. Stewart at both gatherings. Both Mr. and Mrs. Stewart have been among the most earnest workers in the Presbyterian church. The former served for many years as janitor without compensation, preferring to divert the money that would otherwise be his to the church treasury. Until recently Mr. Stewart was a foreman at the plant of the Harrison Granite company. They leave to-morrow night for Redlands, Cal., for a stay of indefinite length.

Thomas Dineen, secretary.

P. E. McNulty.

E. M. White.

Regular meeting of Green Mountain council.
